2010 VISUAL ARTS CLUB ACTIVITIES

EXHIBITS

January 18 – “New Twist”; Lynn Brown and Barb Carakostas, atrium artists, demonstrated collage

April 19 – “On the Line” exhibit coupled with “Clothesline” in Gazebo, creative lunch and dinner served by Sweetgrass Restaurant and Jerry Hubbard as our atrium artist showing sculpture of wood, stone and other materials made a day jam packed with Visual Arts wonders. All Dataw residents were invited to exhibit.

July 12 - “Hot Stuff” – and it was

October 25 – “KISS” – Keep it Small, Simple - and we did. Featured artist Eve Miller displayed her glorious pastels in the atrium.

January 2011 – “The Big Chill” which certainly held Dataw in a freezeover with no electricity on the event night necessitated the reception be held January 19.

ACTIVITIES

February 14, "Pollack and Grits" ... movie, light fare dinner provided by VAC members. Squirt sauces were used by members to decorate the grits followed by a Pollack movie and libations.

"Ballroom Dancing" was also a featured movie night.

Formalized the VAC budget. USCB scholarship funding request entertained and tabled

Participated in summer Camp Dataw for kids hosting a two hour collage workshop that produced a placemat for each child.

Held December and April workshops for kids ...

At the request of the DIYC, the VAC held a photography contest of the October regatta. It was judged by the DIYC.

Developed professional posters created by Brooke Schuster for advertising special events and exhibits.

Purchased a projector, professional paper cutter and DVDs for VAC library as well as hiring a webmaster to develop the VAC website. Sold overhead mirror.

Continued existing workshops. Added a mixed media workshop on Tuesday afternoons. Continued Art History Wednesday evenings and Thursday lectures.

VAC featured a "pizzazz evening oohlala holiday boutique". Suggested attire: your interpretation of black tie; champagne; hors d'oeuvres and featured sale of fine art and crafts in the dance studio of the Community Center. Was wonderful with all the mirrors reflecting the glitter of the night.

Joan and John Berra hosted a Beaufort Film Festival documentary January 21. Ron Tucker, president of the Beaufort Film Society lead a post film discussion of the movie "Brats." Popped corn and wine were served.

Studio visits included: Beth Oliver, Bob Stadler and Kate Gorgas.

Dataw celebrated its 25th anniversary in great style with events in progress all day the 13th of November. VAC showed off all its facets in the Arts and Crafts Room of the Community Center. Mini booths displayed oil, acrylic, watercolor, pastel, photography, art history, film, lectures, drawing, and our vast collection of superb scrapbooks archived by Sheila Korhammer. Dot Schaphorts clay group demonstrated sculpture possibilities all day long.
