2	Lynn Baker	Living on the Edge 3	Collage
3	Judy Brown	Santorini	Rug Hooking/Hand dyed wool	This piece is based on a photo I took on a trip to Greece. It brings back many memories.
4	Harold Burnley	Tree of Angles	Photograph	This magnificent live oak in Charleston's reported to be from 500 to 1,500 years old. It's the largest tree east of the Mississippi. This sprawling tree is typical of South Carolina live oaks. I reduced the saturation of all colors except green to add some drama.
5	Harold Burnley	What a Wonderful World	Photograph	This image is a composite. The tree is in Dameron Marsh Virginia and the sunset was captured at Duck, NC looking west over the sound.
6	Harold Burnley	What a Wonderful World	Photograph	This piece is a composite. The tree is located at Dameron Marsh, Virginia and the sunset was captured at Duck, NC looking east across the sound.
7	Harold Burnley	Shenandoah	Photograph	This image was captured at my friend's vineyards and winery in the Shenandoah Valley.
8	Harold Burnley	Survival of the Fittest	Photograph	This photo was captured in Beaufort County along Rt. 21 east of Beaufort.
9	Anne Clements	Sargasso Sea	Oil
10	Anne Clements	God's Creatures	Photograph
11	Anne Clements	Fiona and Frannie	Oil	Inspired by "Sita and Sarita", an oil painted by Cecelia Beaux in 1893.

21	Dick Golobic	The Butchart Gardens, Victoria, BC	Photograph	The Butchart Gardens is a large and famous botanical garden and a not-to-miss photo opportunity.
22	Marcea Gustafson	Life is Good	Photograph	It was the most beautiful evening and I had to be a part of it! Quinn and I headed to Oak Island and immersed ourselves in the light and wonder.
23	Susan Hertz	What a Wonderful World of Water	Watercolor	Memories of my life living in Maui for 25 years
24	Jacqueline Jones	Love in the Afternoon	Mixed Medium	Watching couples walking at the beach while holding hands with the one they love!
25	Susan Landskroener	Serengeti	Quilt	The fabric lines in this quilt were purchased because they embodied the spirit and animals of Kenya, where I have visited many times. Each square in the quilt represents a windmill that blows the gentle winds that keep the wildlife and plant ecosystems alive in the Serengeti. Visiting the Masai Mara and the Serengeti was one of the highlights of my life, and this quilt keeps these memories alive for me.
26	Emily Mahoney	Delicate Blooms	Photograph	I came across these delicate blooms one brisk spring morning. The fog was just beginning to lift, thus creating a subtle background to make the flowers pop. Such a wonderful gift from nature.
27	Emily Mahoney	Crisp Autumn in Estes Park Colorado	Photograph	Last fall, while hiking in Estes Park Colorado I came across a vista that literally took my breath away. I had to sit awhile, taking in the glories of nature; soon breaking into song. What a Wonderful World!
28	Emily Mahoney	What a wonderful view	Acrylic	When visiting Dataw for the first time, I had no idea what glorious views and vistas awaited me. Upon looking out my friend Lynn's porch the first morning, I witnessed this splendid scene. What a wonderful world we live in!
29	Dale Martin	Worldly notes	Acrylic	Louie Armstrong's "It's a Wonderful World"
30	Dale Martin	Whirling in the Universe	Acrylic	Stephen William Hawking's "Brief History of Time"... his theories on cosmology, quantum gravity and black holes: indeed, we live in a wonderful world
31	Kathy McCall Head	David's Orchids	Acrylic	Orchids grown by my husband, David, in Vero Beach, Florida.
32	Dian Moore	Lunch In The Park	Graphite	It's a wonderful interaction between man and animals.
33	Sandra Pomeroy	Baby It's Cold Outside	Hooking	After hooking the three cows, I decided they needed to be in a barn, looking out over two hinged doors.
